

Changes in 100 Years

With permission from Tate Gallery © 2000
Museum (Maritime Museum)

100-years ago in the kitchen

NOW in the kitchen

flat iron

candle

posser

television and video

dolly tub

electric iron

mangle

telephone

carpet beater

washer

wash stand

electric kettle

vacuum cleaner

electric lamp

microwave

Grandad at School

Schools were very different when I was a boy. The teachers were very strict and we always worked in silence.

Here I am using a counting frame.

I used a pen with a nib like this to write with.

The teacher used a blackboard and easel.

I had free milk at playtime.

I shared a desk like this. Our desks were in rows.